

Search for new missionaries 2009

In 2009 the EBM hopefully will be able to call a number of new (male or female) missionaries for the work in Africa. Our mission specifically and urgently looks for new missionaries to be called as soon as possible for the following areas:

Cameroon: an experienced medical doctor for the hospital in Zidim in a rural area of Northern Cameroon to lead and further develop the medical work of this mission hospital in cooperation with already existing African team of co-workers to be strengthened and empowered to take over responsibility in the years to come;

Cameroon: an experienced medical doctor for the hospital in Nkoteng in a rural area of Southern Cameroon to lead and further develop the medical work of this mission hospital in cooperation with already existing African team of co-workers to be strengthened and empowered to take over responsibility in the years to come;

Mozambique: an experienced missionary couple for the implementation and the lead of the new AIDS-HIV Children's Home in Macia / Mozambique in cooperation with a team of African co-workers to be strengthened and empowered to take over responsibility in the years to come.

In general we think that the following qualifications are a necessary requirement for all our missionary co-workers: a clear call from God (spiritual vocation), membership in a Baptist Church, professional skills, personal commitment, the willingness and ability to work in a team in a partnership-oriented ministry with the local Baptist union, openness for a learning process and for the life in a different culture and the inner flexibility regarding services and responsibilities.

The financial questions are important and have to be clarified before sending out new missionaries into their fields of work. Our mission together with the respective home union is responsible for the necessary payments for salaries, social security, housing and project funds for the work. We do not want to bring unions and missionaries under too much pressure but we expect that all efforts will be made to bring in as much resources as possible for the necessary expenses in connection with the service of our missionaries.

Candidates for open mission posts may contact first their respective mission committees in their home unions and then as soon as possible our mission office in Elstal. Our address is:
